General Information

Hong Kong Facts

Hong Kong is situated on the southeast coast of China at the mouth of the Pearl River facing the South China Sea. Covering an area of 1,104 square kilometres, the territory is made up of Hong Kong Island, the Kowloon Peninsula and the New Territories, which includes 262 offshore islands. Hong Kong is an eco-city, a city of life, a place of East and West; an age-old synthesis of cultures and traditions; and a unique city where new and old meet at every turn. Despite the fast-paced modern city, the land mass is rural mountains, valleys and coastline - all within easy reach. It offers a memorable and diverse experience of stunning cityscapes, natural green countryside, and living culture and heritage with exquisite authentic Asian cuisines and a truly "Shopping Paradise". Hong Kong has a subtropical climate with distinct seasons. During Spring (between March and May) there are pleasant breezes, plenty of sunshine and comfortable temperatures, and many people regard these as the best months of the year to visit Hong Kong.

Cancellation of registration must be received by the Conference Secretariat before 3 January 2016 to receive a 50% refund of the fee paid. No refund will be made thereafter.

Welcome Message
It is a great pleasure for me to invite you to attend the Sixth Pan-Pacific Nursing Conference and First Colloquium on Chronic Illness Care to be held in March 2016 in Hong Kong. This conference is also one of the key events to celebrate our School’s 25th Anniversary.

The Pan-Pacific Nursing Conference hosted by the Nethersole School of Nursing at The Chinese University of Hong Kong is a regular, yet important event in the international nursing conference calendar. Since it was first organised in 1999, the conference has been serving as an excellent platform to pave the efforts of nursing and healthcare professionals across cultures and disciplines to promote health and well-being of people in the Pan-Pacific region and beyond.

For the upcoming conference, considering that health and social-care services are undergoing transformation in response to the escalating burden of chronic illnesses arising from a rapidly aging global population, the theme “Chronic health transformation and sustainable development in health and social care” is particularly chosen. The conference aims to assemble local, national and overseas service providers, academics and researchers to discuss and explore strategies and initiatives for transformational and sustainable development in health and social care services in both local and global contexts.

Internationally renowned experts in the field will be invited as keynote speakers to share their insightful views and experiences. Concurrent sessions and professional workshops will be conducted for participants to dialogue on a wide range of theme-related topics and to identify health and social-care innovations for maximising benefits to patients and the community.

Apart from sharing and discussion, the conference also provides a valuable opportunity for participants to meet old and new friends and to extend networks for academic and professional collaborations. Overseas participants may also take this opportunity to explore the beauty and attractions of Hong Kong – a dynamic and vibrant city where western-style modernity and centuries-old Chinese tradition are sophistically integrated.

Once again, I cordially invite you to attend this conference and look forward to seeing you in 2016.

Sincerely,

Shatin, N.T., Hong Kong

General Information

Hong Kong Facts

Hong Kong is situated on the southeast coast of China at the mouth of the Pearl River facing the South China Sea. Covering an area of 1,104 square kilometres, the territory is made up of Hong Kong Island (at the northern end of the Kowloon Peninsula); the New Territories, which includes 262 outlying islands; Hong Kong Island; Kowloon Peninsula; Tsim Sha Tsui; and the New Territories, which includes 262 outlying islands.

Hong Kong is a global financial centre with a high degree of sophistication and international outlook, a unique city where new and old meet at every turn. Despite the bustling nature of Hong Kong’s business district, its urban landscape is rural mountains, valleys and coastline—all within easy reach. It offers memorable and diverse experiences: stunning cityscapes, natural green countryside, and long history and culture with an exciting array of cultural resources.

Hong Kong is a truly ‘Shopping Paradise’. Hong Kong has a subtropical climate with distinct seasons. During Spring (between March and May) there are pleasant breezes, plenty of sunshine and moderate weather. During Summer (June to September), the weather is hot and humid. The best months of the year to visit Hong Kong are September and October when the weather is cool and comfortable. The light rain in November brings pleasant temperatures and adds to Hong Kong’s charm, which is why it is known as the ‘Museum of the Seasons’.

Conference Dinner (3 March 2016)

The conference dinner will be held at the Peking Garden, 3/F, Star House, Tsim Sha Tsui, Kowloon. Guests will be served with authentic Chinese cuisine, and have the opportunity to enjoy live Chinese musical performances, Chinese cultural shows, handcrafted noodle demonstration, traditional craftsmanship and local delicacies. A lucky draw will also be arranged during the dinner.

Fee: HK$385/US$50 per person
